

HAPPY HALLOWEEN ~ LUCCHESE STYLE!

Happy Halloween 2014 to everyone everywhere from the surreal kingdom of Lucca!

We woke up yesterday morning (and again this morning) to the "Ghost Bustaahs" theme (with an Italian accent) streaming through our bedroom windows from up on the walls
- and so begins the 4 day extravaganza of Lucca Comics & Games that will completely surround us through this Sunday!

We now know that a new Ghostbusters movie is soon to come out, as their booth/tent is right across from us, near that of the History Channel's Vikings Series and just down from that of AMC's The Walking Dead.

So, Hollywood and the world of all things fantasy have invaded our tiny Medieval/Renaissance historical center this weekend - along with hundreds of thousands of visitors (many in costume). See the next two pages. If ever anyone doubted that Italians love costumes and pageantry, this annual event would certainly put that question to rest!

Enjoy your weekend - more news from Lucca to come very soon....
